HPS EVENTS:

Nurturing Young Environmental Stewards: Earth Day at HPS

This Earth Day, the Junior and Pre-Junior Sections at Habib Public School united in a vibrant celebration of sustainability and environmental responsibility. The day featured a range of hands-on learning experiences - from morning assemblies focused on ecological awareness to creative recycling activities within classrooms. A highlight of the initiative was the Pre-Junior event, where students and parents came together to showcase recycled projects and take part in a lively Earth Day parade. These joyful, purposeful moments reflected our commitment to developing environmental consciousness from an early age. At HPS, we believe that instilling these values in our youngest students lays the foundation for responsible, informed citizens of the future. The excitement and creativity brought forward by the students were a testament to how deeply they are beginning to understand their role in protecting the planet. Classrooms turned into innovation hubs, with children transforming everyday waste into meaningful projects. Parents were equally engaged, fostering a strong home-school connection around a shared cause. The Earth Day parade added color and energy to the celebrations, with students proudly displaying their eco-friendly messages.

Fostering Safe Spaces: Student Safeguarding Week at HPS

Habib Public School recently observed Student Safeguarding Week, a dedicated initiative aimed at promoting awareness around anti-bullying and student well-being across Grades 1 to 7. Through engaging classroom discussions and a thought-provoking poster competition, young students explored themes of empathy, safety, and the courage to stand up for one another. The week-long campaign served as a powerful reminder of the values deeply rooted in the HPS ethos - nurturing not just academic excellence but responsible, compassionate individuals. The creativity and conviction shown by our students were a testament to a growing culture of kindness and inclusion on campus.

Honoring Young Minds: Library Achievers' Award Ceremony

At Habib Public School, the love of reading and creative expression continues to thrive across all sections. The recent Library Achievers' Award Ceremony celebrated the literary enthusiasm of our students from the Pre-Junior, Junior, and Senior Sections. From imaginative bookmark designs and lively character parades to thoughtful e-book presentations, our young readers and writers showcased their deep engagement with the written word. This vibrant celebration was not just an award function - it was a tribute to storytelling, imagination, and the joy of lifelong learning. We extend heartfelt congratulations to all the students who continue to turn the pages of curiosity and creativity.
